

Subject: Grand Review

Gents,

Here's the latest information on the Grand Review next year.

The parade is scheduled with the City and NPS for Sunday, May 17th.

The gathering point will be at RFK (DC United) stadium parking lot.

Parade participants MUST BE at RFK stadium by 7am on Sunday morning.

We will then board buses which will be provided to be taken to the Parade start point near the US Capitol.

We will then Parade up Pennsylvania Ave. to about 12th St. where we will be turned to the Mall.

We will have to then make our own way back to the start point where we will then get back on the buses and return to RFK stadium and our own vehicles to return home.

Cost of the PARADE ITSELF will be $25 per person. This ONLY covers the Parade.

For those of us who live outside the DC area, we are looking into meeting at perhaps Frederick, MD or Harrisburg, PA where we could rent a block of rooms for Saturday then rent a bus or buses to take us to the stadium and then return us to the motel after the event. That way, those of us who are not familiar with the DC area won't have the worry of driving there.

Any cost of that would be above and beyond the $25 dollars for the parade.

We'll keep you posted as to those plans.

Tom
